BRIEF MENTION.

M. Lesser wants money from those indebted to him, and proposes to sell his present stock of merchandise at reduced prices. Read his advertisement in another column.

We regret to learn that the Gin-House of Mr. Grief Tate, five miles south of this absence of years, claims his estate and implace, was destroyed by fire just after daylight on yesterday (Wednesday) morning. The origin of the fire was accidental, and occurred from friction in the machinery. The entire contents of the Gin-House were lost, including two bales of cotton and six hundred bushels of cotton seed. The screw and packed cotton were saved.

DEATHS.

Her death was unexpected and sudden, though she had been in feeble health for some time since. Her remains were committed to rest in the Hopewell burying ground some six miles northeast of this place.

DEATH OF MRS. McGUKIN.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. McGukin, wife of our Sheriff, Mr. William McGukin, which occurred on last Sabbath morning, after an illness of only a few days. Her remains were interred on Monday last in Mountain Creek Church yard, where other members of her family are buried.

It is not often our sad duty to chronicle in one paper so many deaths as we announce this week. Each one carries its peculiar sorrow to the hearts of those bereft of a loved one or friend. Death is sad to all and all think their sorrow greatest, but when the affectionate wife and the devoted mother dies there is a thriller pang of anguish and a deeper sorrow inflicted upon the bereaved ones than can be described.

POPULAR EDUCATION.

We are informed that Maj. S. E. Caugh man, the Agent of the Palmetto Orphan Home, will deliver a lecture in this town on to-morrow (Friday) evening. Subject of the lecture: "Popular education, based upon a sound morality, the only enduring hope of a Republican government." Maj. Caughman is a pleasing and entertaining speaker, and will doubtless amply repay all who will give him their attention. The subject is an important one to us as a people, and we trust there will be a large attendance. As the lecture will be free, a general invitation is extended. The Court House will be occupied in the early part of the evening by the citizens assembled to hear the report of the delegation to Walhalla, and we cannot state positively where Maj. Caughman's lecture will be delivered, but we presume either in the Court House or Masonic Hall.

LECTURE ON GEN. LEE.

We understand that Rev. Richard Furman, of Edgefield, will deliver his famous lecture upon the life and character of Gen. Robert E. Lee in this town on Tuesday even ning next, November 9th. Dr. Furman has been lecturing for several years, and his recognized talents and ability will secure for him la large audience in Anderson. The lecture on Gen. Lee has been delivered in numerous places, and everywhere meets with the highest commendation from the admirers and followers of the peerless chieftain. The Greenville Daily News refers to the lecture as "one of the most eloquent and able efforts we have ever heard. It was great, grand and glorious; and the intelligent audience present will ever feel proud that they enjoyed the masterly effort of the lecturer and his noble theme." Suitable arrangements will be made for the lecture by Dr. Furman's friends, and the public may expect a rare and enviable intellectual treat.

EARTHQUAKE IN ANDERSON.

In a few seconds, probably not more than ten seconds, a strong vibration rattled the windows and crockery. and shook the strongest buildings in town with great force. It was followed by a considerable noise which rolled and rumbled in the distance with fearful distinctness, and every one was apprehensive that another shock was going to take place. No damage has been done, so far as we can ascertain, The shock was experienced throughout the county, we believe, with the same general features of this phenomenon in nature. We have not heard that any one was so much alarmed as to forsake their dwellings, or that the consternation produced any serious results. It may be supposed, however, that most persons did not fully realize that an earthquake was actually being experienced in Anderson, until the shock was nearly over, or there might have a stampede among

THE THEATRICALS.

Our community and its visitors enjoyed wo delightful evenings at the Masonic Hall on Thursday and Friday of last week in attending the entertainments given by the Theatrical Company of Anderson. On each evening the public attested the interest felt in the efforts of these amateur performers by attending in such numbers that the Hall was literally filled. Judging the opinion entertained of the performance on both evenings by the actions of those present we should say it was of the highest order, as their appreciation of the "good hits" in the various plays, and of the tact with which the different actors performed the parts required in the characters represented by them was repeatedly manifested in loud rounds We are indebted to Mr. H. The music furnished by the Spartanburg Band lent much additional pleasure to the performances of the first evening.

The talent displayed by the young ladies and gentlemen who participated in the plays is in the highest degree creditable to them, and shows that Anderson can get up a pleasant theatrical entertainment out of its home material. We would do injustice were we to individualize our comments without mentioning the part taken by each participant, which our space forbids, and, therefore, ty who will hear with sorrow of his death. shall content ourselves with congratulating Mr. J. It should be the aim of such performances to educate the public mind by refining and elevating its tastes, and not to pander to its fancies which are not deserving of encouragement. We learn that on the two evenings about three hundred and twenty dollars were realized.

ACCIDENTS.

There were several accidents during Fair Week, only one of them occurring upon the grounds, however. On Wednesday night, in going from town to his father's house on quite dark, and the accident was caused by is doing very well, we learn, and will short-

On Friday morning, Master Banister Allen was thrown from a horse upon the public square, and received severe injuries. This was caused by the saddle turning with him when the horse was at full speed, and may be regarded as a narrow escape. On the same day, at the Fair Grounds, a carriage wheel struck little Willie Webb, son of Mr. T. J. Webb, and disabled his foot for some days. No bones were broken, and his injuries are not serious, we are glad to know

THE OCONER FAIR.

The first exhibition of the Oconce Agricultural and Mechanical Fair Association came off on Monday, Tuesday and Wednes day last, at Walhalla. It was a decided suc cess. The entries were numerous in all the departments, and the quality of the articles exhibited was excellent. Every department was well filled, but the needle and fancy work, the Household and the manufacturer's departments were best. The attendance was large, and the management reflected much credit upon the judgment and taste of Col. J. W. Livingston, the President, and the directors of the Association. We hope our neighboring County may enjoy many returns of this pleasant occasion.
